

FBLA is looking for new members! Future Business Leaders of America is a club that allows students to compete in local, state, and national competitions in a variety of events. This club will give you the opportunity to explore different areas in the business field and earn service hours for several activities. This year specifically, our district and state are both providing chances to attend online conferences and competitions, so you can still partake in FBLA events from your own home. More information will soon be provided about those opportunities. Most of all, FBLA is a wonderful leadership opportunity for students of all grades. King has been heavily involved in this organization for years and wants to continue the legacy. If you are interested in joining FBLA, please sign up at the link below:
