Can I Be Your Dog?

The image shows a 2D art project and a reader's statement. The art project features a brown dog's head with a blue eye patch, a blue envelope with a pink heart and the words "To Arny", and a handwritten note that says "This letter made the dog Happy". The reader's statement is written in a box and says "I liked the book because the dog was happy." The SLAM logo and "Student Literacy & Media Showcase" are visible in the top left of the statement box. The text "Reader's Statement (for 2D and 3D art projects)" is at the top right. The form fields are filled with: Name: Pratham, Teacher: Sherry, School: Pride Elementary, and Book Title: Can I Be Your Dog. A note at the bottom of the statement box says "Must be at least one sentence and no more than 300 words".

Frank and bean

I like this book because two friends that are different can help each other.

Bean helps Frank by helping him to not be afraid to share his words.

Frank helps Bean by telling him to be quiet so that he can hear the night's song.

When friends work together they can create something new!

The book I read is called how I became a spy. It is about a German plane bombing London during WWII and a boy named Bertie devoting a year of his life to crack a case. When the bombing happens a girl disappears, the mystery is where she went, and Bertie is up for the case. My creation replicates the air bombing plane that attacked London.

Book Title: KLAWDE - Evil alien worlrod cat
 Author: Johnny Marciano and Emily Chenaweth

It is funny enough to make your head explode! It is about a cat from space who can talk, it is also about the owner whos name is Raj. Klawde is an exiled emperor from across the universe with a hunger for battle but the best part is he's about to become Raj's best friend. This book is really fun and its perfect for anyone.

Book Title: Bernice Buttman, Model Citizen

I like the book because it shows that it's never too late to change how you act in life. Bernice was a bully but when she moved to the abbey, she saw a different way she could live her life. I did a 3D project because I like working with model clay.
