The University of Florida Honors Program is accepting applications for the Stamps Scholarship and the John V. Lombardi Scholarship. Both scholarships provide a financial stipend and four fully funded summer enrichment experiences.

The Honors Program is looking for creative, forward-thinking individuals with an interest in global issues and a willingness to learn and study outside of their comfort zone. Our Scholars prepare to make a positive difference in their academic and professional communities by interacting with students and faculty members from a variety of academic disciplines throughout their undergraduate careers. Students with exceptional potential in one or two areas often stand out more than those that are merely well-rounded.

Please direct interested students to our upcoming webinars, hosted by Honors Scholars. The 1-hour sessions will provide time for Q&A and allow prospective applicants to learn more about UF, the Honors Program, and these exciting scholarships. The first webinar is scheduled for Wednesday, October 13 from 5:30 - 6:30 PM and the second will take place Monday, October 25 between 6 – 7 PM. Students may register using the links embedded above.

To be eligible for these programs, students must be nominated by high school administrators or counselors. High schools may nominate up to two students to be reviewed for these prestigious scholarships. The nomination form should be written by a counselor, administrator, or teacher that knows the student well.

Deadline for all materials: Sunday, November 14, 2021
Application, Nomination Form, and additional information are available here

Note that application to the University of Florida and the Honors Program is a separate process and that deadline is November 1. Transcripts and standardized test scores are reviewed by the Office of Admissions and are not required as part of the scholarship application.
